John Walterman, south of town, is putting up a fine large barn on his farm. John Kluse of Ashton is doing the work. A report has just reached us that J. W. Hillhouse was taken seriously sick after his arrival at Iowa Falls on Tuesday. List of letters remaining unclaimed in the Sibley postoffice this week: R. Depain 2, Artie Stevens, James W. Stevens. Soda water season will open Saturday, April 24, 1897, at Stevens. Everybody invited to call and have a free drink on that day. Owing to the delay in sending away for a 'C' shank, the cornet did not assist in the music at the Congregational church last Sunday. Street commissioner Winters put a force of men at work with the grader on main street, Saturday, which gives it the appearance of a boulevard. The little daughter of Mr. Harry Hunteley, living south of town, is very low with bronchitis. Little hopes are entertained for her recovery. C. C. Briggs, orders his paper changed from Goldfield, to Larchwood. So we would judge from that that Larchwood would be their future home. Saturday night the Misses Aznoe entertained a number of their friends at their home in east Sibley. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all present. "Christ our Intercessor," will be the subject of the morning sermon at the Congregational church next Sunday. Evening sermon, "The Touch of Faith." F. W. Hahn writes that he wants his paper sent to Shennington, Wis., which he states will be his permanent address. He also reports that all is well with them. Special services were held at the Catholic church last Sunday on account of Easter. The decorations were profuse and neatly arranged. A large number from the country attended. A negro minstrel show held the boards at the G. A. R. hall last night. A small audience greeted them, but probably more than they were deserving of judging from their general appearance. Judge Glover said the words yesterday that sent Henry L. F. Sachlaba and Phoebe J. Saunders down life's journey together to enjoy the sorrows or blessings of matrimony. All of O'Brien county. L. L. Jackson the popular barber has the neatest and best equipped shop in Iowa, he has just repaired and painted. Call and see him. He also has the finest line of choice cigars in the city. Dr. E. L. Bugbee Ophthalmic Specialist will be at Sibley, Saturday 24th and Sunday 25th at the hotel prepared to attend to any one who may have eye trouble or need glasses skillfully fitted. The Sibley Art Co., is bound to keep up to date, and is having an addition built to the gallery, 16x24. This was necessary on account of the old building not having sufficient room to meet the demands of business. The Y. P. S. C. E. met Monday evening at the home of G. M. Schlegel for the election of officers. Emory Guertin was elected president, Miss Nellie Baxter vice-president, and Miss Ava Hill, secretary and treasurer. Remember the dates Dr. E. S. Bugbee of Tracy, Minn., will be in Sibley, April 24th and 25th. If your eyes hurt, smart or burn, seem dim while reading or sewing see Dr. E. S. Bugbee. Consultation free April 24th and 25th at hotel. Odd Fellows at Spencer are making great preparations for the celebration of the seventy-eighth anniversary of the establishment of the order in this country. They expect several hundred from the surrounding country to join with them in the festivities. Landlord Hill, Alton's popular hotel man was in Sibley the fore part of the week looking over the town with a view of building a new hotel here. He is of the opinion that arrangements can be made that will permit him to go ahead with the enterprise sometime later in the year. Dr. E. S. Bugbee comes highly recommended from all the Physicians of his own town as well as from the leading Oculists of the city, he is a graduate of the Detroit Ophthalmic College and is prepared to do the most scientific fitting of glasses. Remember the dates April 24th and 25. Ben Haken met with a painful accident last Friday, while attempting to climb into a moving lumber wagon his foot slipped in some manner, allowing him to fall sustaining a severe compound fracture of the leg. Dr. Heetland reduced the broken member and at this writing he is improving. While in Rock Rapids, last Saturday, our former partner, G. L. Caswell, took us a drive around that beautiful little city to the west of us. We must say that the Rapids is assuming a metropolitan appearance, with her large hand some residences, gutters and alleys and streets with stone crossings, good system of waterworks, and an electric light plant already ordered. J. Q. Herschelmann, of Hartley, has leased the basement of Hinkley & Taylor's store and will operate a butter and egg cold storage plant. Mr. Herschelmann will make this headquarters for shipments from surrounding points, and will conduct the business on a strictly cash basis. Market quotations will be issued and sent out regularly. On last Tuesday a deal was consummated whereby Charles Glazier a former resident of Sibley, came into possession of the barber shop owned by Otis Schaeffer, Mr. Schaeffer's health not permitting him to longer continue in the business. Mr. Glazier is well and favorably known here as a first-class barber and a gentleman and will meet with abundant success in his new location.

The Methodist missionary convention opened, Monday evening, by music by the male quartette. The principal feature of the evening meeting was the address of Presiding Elder J. B. Trimble, on "What is being done with the money contributed to missions by the Methodist Episcopal church." The speaker said that from less than $500 contributed during the first year of missionary efforts the church, and its auxiliary societies had now reached the enormous annual collection of nearly one and three-quarter million of dollars. The money collected from the people for the vast mission undertaking, home and foreign, is more economically disbursed than any other great business can show along the lines of its receipts and expenditures. He referred to the slighting remark that is sometimes made about its costing 98 cents out of every dollar to expand the remaining 2 cents of the dollar to the advantage of the heathen, and asserted that it was just the other way, that about 98 cents out of every dollar contributed was well expended on the mission field, and that the operating expenses of the great mission organization were defrayed by the 2 per cent. He spoke of the wonderful results that had been accomplished by missionary effort in the newer settlements, and the ever-extending frontier in this country, and said that the self-sacrificing missionaries like Whitman, and his co-laborers, beyond the Rocky mountains had contributed much to this country acquiring the territory that now makes up the great states of Oregon and Washington—territory that had not been for missions, and the colonies of Americans following the planting of missions would now be a part of the British empire. He reviewed the great self-denying labors of the missionaries in China, Japan, Africa and the islands of the sea. The address was well prepared and was delivered with much earnestness, and was an interesting and instructive presentation of the subject and was enlivened by incidents, anecdote and witicism. Easter was observed at the Congregational church by fitting services morning and evening, the seating capacity of the house being taxed to its uttermost at both services. The church was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. In the morning the pastor, Rev. C. H. Seccombe, after the introductory services, spoke upon the Resurrection of Christ, as the keystone of the arch of the christian faith and hope. He said that there is cause to rejoice that so important an event as the resurrection of Jesus is not a matter of theory or dogma but a fact of history. Upon this fact depends the influence and claims of Christ. The resurrection is the ground for belief in immortality not only, but is the great incentive to right living. It is not in human nature to make sacrifices for truth and principle if the hope of a future life be groundless. A chorus choir, led by the quartette, Messdames, Carmichael and Hoyt and Messrs. Banister and Lathrop, rendered in a most creditable manner the anthems chosen for the occasion. The solo sung by Mr. Lathrop was especially good. In the evening a program of recitations and readings, interspersed with music, was given. One of the most daring highway robberies that ever took place in northwestern Iowa, was perpetrated on last Monday night in our neighboring town of Ochoyedan. A Mr. Swanson from Harris had come to town during the day carrying with him about $125. In the evening he fell in company with one Jack —, a transient painter and paper hanger, and together hid themselves to the saloon. During the exchange of money for drinks Swanson in some manner displayed his roll of money, and while the bartender was down cellar for a minute, he was assaulted, knocked down and his money taken from him by the man "Jack," who at once left the saloon and went to a neighboring house, purchased a horse with part of the money, and made his escape to Round Lake, where he was later captured by the marshal, brought back and bound over to await the action of the grand jury. Not being able to give bonds he now languishes in the county jail. None of the money was recovered and Swanson is nursing his feelings, together with a sore head, the result of the spree. Last Friday being G. G. Schlegel's 36th birthday, Mrs. Schlegel, in her usual entertaining spirit, surprised G. G. by inviting in a few gentlemen friends to a 6 o'clock dinner in honor of the occasion, to which the following responded: Rev. Chas. Seccombe, B. A. Wilder, W. J. Miller, W. H. Chambers, H. G. Upp, W. H. Armin, J. Fred Mattert, E. M. Taylor and W. P. Webster. The dinner was served in courses and was highly enjoyed. It was the wish of all those present that Mr. Schlegel's annual anniversary might be spent in the same pleasant way, and that he would live to enjoy a ripe old age. Rev. Day preached an interesting sermon last Sunday morning taking for his text the "First Easter." As usual it was well delivered and embodied a great deal of excellent subject matter and sound and logical reasoning. The Easter decorations were simply magnificent and were neat and tastefully arranged. In the evening a program was arranged and carried out by the little folks under the direction of their respective Sunday school teachers. They acquitted themselves nicely, and reflected much credit upon their prompters. The missionary contributions by the Sunday school amounted to over $14.00. Dr. Talmage, in speaking of the country newspaper, says: "A local newspaper whose columns overflow with advertisements of business men has more influence in attracting attention to and building up a city or town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where business is. Capital and labor will locate where there is an enterprising community. No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as a local newspaper well patronized and its power should be appreciated." Those Ochoyedan horse buyers who played horse with some of our people the past week, have their best wishes, but will not be accommodated with any more favors.

YOU Will Find Everything In The Line of Groceries at BRAND'S STORE, The Quality Is Way Up. And Prices Way Down. —Oelrich, S. D. Times: The marriage of Mr. George Allen, and Nellie Cortleyou was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday, April 10th, 1897, Rev. T. M. Shanafelt, D. D., of Huron S. D., officiating. It was a private affair, only relatives being present. The guests from abroad were Hoyt Cortleyou of Chadron, and B. F. Allen and wife of Wabash, Nebraska. At precisely four o'clock the groom with the bride entered the room to the strains of the Swedish Wedding March. The bride wore a becoming suit of white and green tulle, trimmed with white satin and lace, clusters of carnations, tea roses, and smilax adorned her hair and throat. The groom wore the customary black. After the brief but impressive marriage service, supper was served. The young people are known and highly esteemed by all. The Times joins their many friends in extending congratulations to the happy couple, and our best wishes for a long and prosperous life. The groom was an Osceola county boy, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Allen, who resided in Gosway township, and were among the pioneer settlers of the county. His many friends in this locality will join THE TRIBUNE in extending congratulations on the happy event. The Sibley creamery is receiving a thorough overhauling and rapidly being made ready to receive milk on the first of May. A first class butter maker has been engaged, thus insuring the highest market price for their butter, and which in turn insures the patrons the highest price for their milk. Already enough patronage has been secured by the management to make it a successful venture. There is no county in the state that ever offered so many advantages at the opening of the dairy business as Osceola, and a little extra effort on the part of enterprising farmers toward a preparation for raising the cow and hog will net a hundred fold on the investment. Little Rock Free Lance: One of the most peculiar cases we have had to deal with is a long-haired lawyer. Nearly a year ago he came into this office and subscribed for the Free-Lance and tried to make arrangements with us to give him a "boost" as he was up for office. He, with thousands of others were defeated last fall. Now that he is not after office, he instructs the postmaster to notify us that the paper is "refused." For shame sake we omit the man's name, but will continue to send the paper until we have collected our bill. Things that kill—Constipation, Sick Stomach, Liver and Kidneys.
